

1400 ON TRANSPORT SUNK BY RUSS VOLUNTEERS

RAILWAY TRAINMEN SERVE NOTICE AS ROADS FACE TIE-UP BEFORE THE GOVT. RELINQUISHES CONTROL ON MARCH 1

Director Walker D. Hines Will Give Final Answer Late Today.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Washington, Feb. 11.—The railroad wage conference today between Director General Hines and representatives of the employees unions probably will determine whether the rail transportation systems are to be tied up by a strike before the government surrenders control.

The situation was regarded as critical by the railroad administration and union officials.

A new statement of demands by the unions of operating employees has been presented to Mr. Hines who announced that he would make answer today. The trainmen have served a 30-day notice, effective February 23, of abrogation of the existing wage contract and have taken a strike vote said to be largely in favor of cessation of work if the demands are not met.

The committee of ten, representing the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees arrived here today from Detroit and immediately went into conference with J. B. Malloy, vice president of the union.

Members of the committee refused to discuss the strike order or any phase of the wage controversy.

Answer Late Today. Director General Hines will make answer to the wage demands of the 2,900,000 railroad workers on his own responsibility and from the standpoint of the railroad administration and will then report to the president, it was said today at the White House. Mr. Wilson then will approve or disapprove the decision.

Heretofore the president generally has passed upon wage decisions before the railroad administration's answer was given to the union representatives. No reason was assigned for the departure from the usual custom in this case.

Both railroad administration and White House officials regard the situation as extremely grave. Conferences between Mr. Hines and the Brotherhood officers were to have been resumed this morning, but at the appointed hour neither side was ready and the meeting was postponed until late this afternoon.

American Minister Not to Attend Meet

By Associated Press Leased Wire. London, Feb. 11.—The council of the League of Nations formally opened its meeting here at noon today. Arthur J. Balfour representing Great Britain assumed the chair on the suggestion of Leon Bourgeois, of France.

In his speech of welcome Mr. Balfour said there was only one blot on the meeting and that was that there were eight nations represented instead of nine. He said that it was not desirable to touch on the absence of the United States, but he referred to it as marring the symmetry of the original plan of the league.

M. Bourgeois in reply added a word of regret that the nations represented were only eight in number.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—Ambassador Davis at London will not be instructed to attend the meetings of the supreme council and the council of the League of Nations, it was officially stated today. These meetings have been transferred from Paris and will be held in London until settlement of the exact status of Switzerland in its relation to the league makes it possible to again consider Geneva as a meeting place.

Ambassador Wallace attended the council meetings at Paris during the discussion of the Fiume question and others, but his functions were limited to that of an observer or reporter.

Because of the extension of American interests, commercial and financial, which will be affected by the work of the reparations commission operating under the league, council, the state department will keep itself informed as to events at London.

90 PER CENT VOTED

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Copenhagen, Feb. 11.—In spite of the bad weather which prevailed yesterday, more than 90 per cent of the people in the first Schleswig plebiscite zone voted during the day and about 75 per cent voted in favor of Danish sovereignty. In the country districts there were virtually no German votes, only descendants of German settlers casting their ballots in favor of Germany.

EXCEEDED ESTIMATES

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Apenrade, Schleswig, Feb. 11.—Overwhelming victory for the Danes in this zone of the province of Schleswig the future status of which is to be determined by the plebiscite held today is indicated by incomplete returns received here. County districts showed large majorities for Denmark while the vote in towns showed larger figures than the Danish estimates.

Donder, Apenrade and Sonderborg, however, have been carried by the Germans.

CLIFFE VICTOR IN FIGHT FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

Senator Goes to Bench Feb. 23—Majority Over 5,500.

Senator Adam C. Cliffe of Sycamore, who for many years has represented this district in the upper house of the Illinois General Assembly, was yesterday elected Circuit Judge of the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit—the counties of Kane, Kendall, Dupage, and DeKalb—to succeed the late Judge Carnes. The campaign was a bitter one, an element of the Independent Labor party, headed by Mayor Charles Townsend of Aurora, backing Judge Edward M. Mangan of the Aurora city court for the place. Senator Cliffe's majority in a light vote cast throughout the district, was over 5,500 and he is today making arrangements to resign his senatorship preparatory to taking up his judicial duties on Feb. 23.

The senator is well and favorably known in Lee county and he has a host of friends throughout the section who will extend sincere congratulations on his fine victory. His resignation will leave the senatorship from this district vacant, but it is understood his successor will be chosen from DeKalb county, since Lee and Whitehouse counties have the representation.

New York, Feb. 11.—Five to ten years in state's prison was the sentence imposed in the supreme court today on Benjamin Gitlow, former Bronx assemblyman, who was convicted of violating the state's criminal anarchy statute. The charges were preferred as the result of articles advocating the overthrow of government by force which were published in the Revolutionary Age, of which Gitlow was business manager. Gitlow's sentence is the maximum which could be imposed for the offense of which he was convicted. His counsel moved for a new trial and an arrest of judgment, but both motions were denied and Gitlow was taken to Sing Sing prison to begin his sentence.

BERLIN UNIVERSITY STUDENTS VOW HELP TO WAR DIRECTORS

Take Oath to Protect Sought-for Men with Their Lives.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. The students vowed to guard the persons demanded with their own bodies, if necessary.

BERLIN TO PUBLISH LIST.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Berlin, Tuesday, Feb. 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The government announced today it would make public in installment form the official list of persons demanded by the Allies for extradition and also issue the list in book form for the purpose of "forestalling any attempt to confuse the public by biased reports."

As the alleged mistreatment of entire prisoners in German camps figures largely in the allied indictment, the ministry of justice has ordered prompt investigation of the prison camp archives and the re-opening of cases where camp authorities were charged with misconduct.

The ministry has instructed the attorney general to requisition all evidence in the possession of the military authorities.

"A BEAUTIFUL GESTURE."

The major added: "He hopes by this to avert serious difficulties for Germany."

Dutch newspapers describe William's action as a "beautiful gesture."

Asquith Calls King's Speech "Colorless"

By Associated Press Leased Wire. London, Feb. 11.—(Canadian Press.)—In his election campaign speech last night at Paisley, Premier Asquith characterized the King's speech yesterday as a colorless document. Mr. Asquith, however, commented on one point from the speech, the statement that normal conditions should be restored to Russia.

He admitted that Premier Lloyd George always had been opposed to intervention in Russia and disposed to welcome efforts for a settlement. The government's Russia policy, he said, had only strengthened the power of the soviets and if it were continued it would lead to the establishment in Russia of a military regime, as after the French revolution.

KENTUCKY COAL OPERATORS REFUSE TO SUBMIT TO VOTE OF PRESIDENT'S COMMISSION

Order Making Wage Increase Retroactive Brings Break.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Washington, Feb. 11.—After the coal strike settlement commission had agreed today to render a decision as to making the 14 percent wage increase retroactive to October 1 in the Kentucky fields, the Kentucky operators association refused to submit to the jurisdiction of the commission and withdrew from the hearing.

This was the first refusal of operators in any field to accept the commissions settlement of questions in the coal strike.

Claim of the Kentucky miners that the award should be made retroactive was based on the contention that the mines in Kentucky were operated on practically a 100 percent basis throughout the strike.

Levis Say "Hedgers"

John L. Lewis, president of the mine workers, charged that in refusing to submit their case the operators of the Kentucky Association were "hedging" on their acceptance of the original strike settlement terms. This was hotly denied by J. Y. Moore, spokesman for the association, who declared that the action of the operators was predicated solely on the insistence of the mine workers that the commission decide the question of retroactive wages, which he said, was covered by the contract agreement between the miners and operators.

Speaking for a distinct association of Kentucky operators—the western Kentucky coal operators association—J. V. Norman told the commission that association had agreed to accept any awards by the commission covering its field and would submit a brief in reply to the president of the United Mine Workers of the Kentucky district.

Protest against the wide differentials between wage rates of mines in this district was made by the miners. They claimed that wage scales in Kentucky mines were generally lower than in the central competitive field, with a maximum differential of 40 per cent. Mr. Norman replied that the freight rates to all available markets for Kentucky coal were discriminatory to a degree that compelled a lower production cost in that state.

Delegates Listen to Many Arguments

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—Proposed changes in the judiciary system of Illinois were discussed before the Illinois Constitutional Convention delegates today by Hiram T. Gilbert of Chicago.

The convention, meeting as a committee of the whole, heard Mr. Gilbert's explanation of a plan by which the judicial powers would be vested in a supreme court and a circuit court, each of which would have original and appellate jurisdiction of all judicial proceedings. This plan also would abolish the offices of justice of the peace, police magistrates and constables and all courts of record inferior to the supreme court and consolidate them into one court of record to be known as the circuit court.

The plan explained by Mr. Gilbert has been submitted to the convention in the form of a proposal by Delegate Oscar Wolff of Chicago.

By Associated Press Leased Wire. Chicago, Feb. 11.—Illinois nursery men in convention here today advised the planting of more grape vines throughout the state to meet the grape shortage resulting from national prohibition.

New York, Feb. 11.—The arrest of two brothers who were employed as brokers' messengers today made a total of six men held in connection with what the police declare was a plot to steal $5,000,000 worth of securities in the financial district and take them to Canada, where it was expected to market them.

Six Arrested in $5,000,000 Plots

Herbert Bunora, 19 years old, was accused of stealing Crucible Steel securities valued at $145,000 which were entrusted to him to deliver to another firm an hour after he obtained a job as a brokers' messenger last November. Some of the securities were recovered in the office of David B. Sullivan, a New York broker, who is under indictment on a charge of obtaining loans on stolen securities.

Rudolph G. Bunora, 22 years old, was accused of receiving $21,000 worth of securities stolen by Joseph Gluck, 23 years old, and his brother, Irving, 19 years old. The Glucks were arrested yesterday with Edward J. Furey, who is regarded by the police as the "master mind" of the conspiracy. Irving Gluck, the police said, confessed he had stolen $2,000,000 worth of securities in a year and disposed of them with the aid of his brother.

Prejudice against circumstantial evidence in deciding a murder case and opposition to the death penalty under any circumstances resulted in the dismissal of a majority of the venemen called.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 11.—Weakness developed in the corn market today despite an evident tendency on the part of the country to hold grain back. Differences of opinion as to how the threatened railroad strike would affect grain values appeared to make buyers cautious and to deprive the market of support. Besides, the crop was current that there would be no change in railroad orders to give wheat preference in grain shipments eastward from Chicago. Opening prices, which varied from 1/4c lower to 1/2c advance, with May 1.28 to 1.28 1/2 and July 1.25 to 1.25 1/2, were followed by a material setback all around.

Oats were depressed owing to the weakness of corn. After opening 1/4c to 1/2c off, including May at 76 1/2 to 77c, the market continued to descend.

Prices at first reflected the strength of the hog market. Subsequently, declines took place in sympathy with grain.

Later strong commission houses, and forced a rapid upward in prices. The buying was based largely on belief that arrivals here would remain light even though cars were furnished. The close was unsettled, 2 1/2 to 4 1/2c net higher, with May 1.30 1/2 to 1.31 and July 1.28 to 1.28 1/2.

LADY ASTOR TO MAKE SPEECH IN HOUSE ON BOOZE

First Address Ever Given By Woman in Parliament.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
London, Feb. 11.—The drink question was briefly discussed in both houses of parliament yesterday. Lady Astor told the lords that the bill to be introduced would contain provisions for shorter hours of sale. The experiment of state management certainly would not be dropped, he said. In the house of commons the subject was alluded to by Sir Donald MacLean.

"The fact that America has gone dry is an economic fact of the greatest importance to Great Britain," he said. He declared the British expenditure for drink absolutely staggering. This country drank in 1914, he said, 164,000,000 gallons of alcohol. The expenditure increased steadily until it was £259,000,000 in 1918, while it was estimated that the expenditure for the year ending March 31, next, would be nearly £400,000,000. The duty for 1918 was £48,500,000. It was a form of revenue that all chancellors of the exchequer would be pleased to be able to dispense with, he added. He hoped the measures proposed by the government would prove to be a serious attempt to grapple with the evil.

According to a lobby report Lady Astor will speak on the liquor question this week, one in which she is much interested and upon which she has addressed several meetings during the parliamentary vacation. It will not only be her ladyship's maiden speech in the house but the first time that a woman has been heard in parliament.

ALEX AND EMMA WERE VERY GENEROUS CHRISTMAS

By Associated Press Leased Wire
New York, Feb. 11.—Dollar bills autographed by Alexander Berkman while he and 248 other Russians were being deported on the Soviet Ark Buford were brought to New York today by Martin Berkshir, immigration inspector and other officers who had charge of the deportees.

The round trip to Hangö, Finland, whence the deportees were sent to Soviet territory, occupied nearly two months. The officers came home on the army transport Pocahontas, having left the Buford at Antwerp.

On Christmas day Berkman gave away 200 dollar bills, autographed by himself and Emma Goldman, according to Col. C. N. Hilton, who was in charge of five officers and 56 men of the 13th infantry aboard the Buford as guards.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

NEWS FROM DIXON

SUTTERLINS ARE CHAMPS

Sutterlin clinched the title in the volleyball tournament last evening by defeating Wheeler 2 out of 3 games. It was only the timely arrival of Sutterlin himself that saved the day for his team as Wheeler was going strong and had won the first game 15-0, which is, by the way, the only whitewash game played during the tournament. With their "Skipper" at the helm Sutterlin's gang staged a comeback in the second game winning 15-12. This sure was some game and time after time the ball changed sides without a point being registered, and many big league stunts were pulled off by both sides. By the third game the "Chumps" were thoroughly warmed up and had no trouble winning 15-5 although there were several tense moments in this session. The teams lined up: Sutterlin: Sutterlin, Capt.; Schildberg, Kennedy, Smith. Wheeler: Wheeler, Capt.; Kent, Bates, Kuhn.

Rawls, Referee. Raymond, scorer. The tournament will close Thursday when Potter and Wilson play the final match. While the result of this match will have no bearing on the standing of the teams a lively contest is expected.

PHILIAN ART CLUB—

The Philian Art club met with Mrs. Harry Rose on Tuesday afternoon. The program opened with several delightful musical numbers, the Prelude in E flat by Chopin and "The Nightingale." Mrs. Goodsell sang, "Happy Days" by Strelezki and "Sorter Miss You" by Clay Smith. She was accompanied by Miss Eleanor Coppins at the piano and Miss Alice Coppins with the violin.

Several matters of business were taken up. Among them was the matter of buying a fine picture which would be loaned to the schools and library. This was decided. An art exhibit will also be held in the near future which will be open to the public.

Mrs. Wingert gave a very interesting paper upon "Clocks, Bells and Bronzes." She traced the clock from the simple sundial down to the present time. At first only public buildings and very wealthy people could have any clocks. The Versailles clock and the beautiful chimes at Lyons were mentioned but the most wonderful was the Strassburg clock which was so intricate that the builder was accused of witchcraft and blinded. He, however, managed to destroy the works before the injustice was done him so that the clock would never run again.

Many kinds of bells were mentioned. Bells have been used in churches since 500 A. D. Moscow has the heaviest bell known, weighing 193 tons. Bells played a part in many historical events—those of Notre Dame and the bells of St. Jacques, which rang to start the massacre of St. Bartholomew.

A very interesting description of the life and works of Barrie, the French artist, was given. His noted bronzes, especially his animals, the most noted of which is the "lion and serpent," were mentioned. Honors came to him late in life but his works are in the Louvre and many galleries of France. Our own Congressional library and the Corcoran Art Gallery contain pieces of his work.

Short outlines of the works of Paul Dubois and Rodin, the latter an artist of our own time, were given.

This excellent paper closed the program, which was followed by the enjoyment of refreshments and a social hour.

WARD OFF INFLUENZA BY KEEPING IN BEST PHYSICAL CONDITION

Persons Who Catch Cold Easily and Who Are Weak and Run Down Are Earliest Victims.

DANGER IS TOO GREAT TO TAKE ANY CHANCES

Build Up Your Bodily Powers Or Resistance By Taking Tanlac and Fortify Against Attack.

Much of the difficulty experienced by health authorities in checking the spread of influenza lies in the fact that it spreads with almost lightning rapidity. Although state and city authorities have succeeded in keeping it under control in some sections, the disease has gotten entirely beyond control in others.

It is universally agreed by all well-informed persons that the surest preventive is to get the system into the best possible physical condition, in order to be able to throw off the infection. It has been stated that it is possible to perfect the powers of human resistance so that it can throw off almost any infection, not excepting Spanish influenza, which is generally supposed to be one of the most contagious diseases known.

Medical authorities agree that people who are weak and run down are the earliest victims of the influenza epidemic. If you find yourself weak and losing flesh, or if you are in a generally run down condition you are really in danger if you should come in contact with the influenza germ. As a powerful re-constructive tonic and system builder Tanlac is without an equal. This is a statement of fact and is fully supported by recognized authorities. According to all accepted reference works, including the U. S. Dispensary Encyclopedia, Britannica, and the leading textbooks used in the schools of medicine, the principal ingredients of Tanlac possess the most powerful re-constructive properties known to science. This statement is further proven by the fact that millions of persons who have actually taken Tanlac have testified to its extraordinary powers as a medicine.

Tanlac restores health and strength to the weak and run-down system by enabling every organ of the body to perform its proper function in the way nature intended. It creates a good, healthy appetite for wholesome, nourishing food, and is an ideal strengthening tonic for persons who are in a run-down condition and who are suffering from the after-effects of hard winter colds, grippe, or bronchial troubles.

Irrefutable evidence of the re-constructive powers of Tanlac is shown by the fact that it was used by tens of thousands during last year's epidemic with splendid results. One well-known Texas physician stated that he had never found anything to equal Tanlac for building up his patients who had had influenza, and that he had treated over fourteen hundred cases in one month.

In connection with the Tanlac Treatment, keep the bowels open by taking Tanlac Laxative Tablets, samples of which are enclosed in every bottle of Tanlac. TANLAC is sold in Dixon by Public Drug & Book Co., in Compton by W. N. Hills; in Franklin Grove by Geo. S. Ives; in Ambury by C. Aschenbrenner Pharmacy; in Ashton by G. R. Charter & Son.

Dishes that have held milk are apt to be rather horrid things for the uninitiated to wash. If you have ever thoughtlessly put a milk bottle into the sudsy dish water you have caused a most unpleasant condition of affairs.

All milk bottles and pitchers and bowls should be put into cold water before attempting to wash them. Any dishes or pans that have milk sticking to them will wash easier if put to soak in salt water.

After all traces of milk are removed the utensils may be washed in hot suds and no slipperiness will be made. Anything that has contained milk or will contain milk should be carefully washed and scalded and be perfectly sterile before milk is put into it.

My Own Recipes

For sliced oranges it is well to choose those with as thin inside skin as possible. The thick tough partitions in Florida oranges are unpleasant to eat and do not offer any value as to food or digestion. Big California fruit has the thinnest and tenderest fibers. It is the most satisfactory to use except for juice of any orange.

COCOANUT CUSTARD

2 cups sweet milk
2 eggs
3 tablespoons coconut
1/2 cup rolled cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon extract of lemon
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt

Save whites of eggs and one-half cup of sugar for frosting. Beat yolks, add 1/2 cup sugar. Add milk slowly.
Add cracker crumbs and coconut.
Add flavoring and salt. Turn into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Beat whites till stiff and dry and beat in sugar. Cover custard and return to oven to brown.

BEEFSTEAK PIE

1/2 pound beef
Flour, salt and pepper
Boiling Water
3/4 cup flour
2 tablespoons shortening
1/2 teaspoon salt
Cold water

Cut meat in thin slices about 2 inches long by 1 1/2 inches wide. Mix flour, salt and pepper and dip each piece of meat into this. Roll up, putting a small piece of bacon in each roll. Put the rolls in a small, shallow dish, half cover with boiling water and cover with the crust. To make the crust rub 1 scant tablespoon of shortening into the flour, add slowly enough cold water to make stiff dough. Put on a floured board and roll to one-fourth inch thickness.

Put the remaining shortening on one end and roll carefully. Fold the dough over and roll carefully. Fold in thirds and roll again. Do this un-

CARROT SALAD

1 cup cold cooked carrots diced
1 cup cold boiled potatoes diced
1/2 cup celery dice
1/2 cup nuts
2 hard boiled eggs

Let carrots, celery and potatoes stand in French dressing for 30 minutes. Arrange on lettuce, sprinkle with nuts, add slices of eggs, and drop a teaspoonful of mayonnaise dressing on the top of each plate. A slice of onion rubbed over the inside of the bowl in which the vegetables are marinated will add to the salad and no one will know the onion was in speaking distance.

A misnomer in these days of high prices—the almighty dollar.

KEEP YOUNG

People with bad backs and weak kidneys are apt to feel old at sixty.
Many old folks say Doan's Kidney Pills help them keep young. Here's a Dixon case:

Mrs. E. Bott, 811 College Ave., says: "My advanced age probably has as much to do with my kidneys being disordered as anything else. I had kidney trouble a long time before I knew it. The chief symptoms were backache and severe pains across my kidneys. It was often very hard for me to get up or down. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at The Public
Drug & Book Co. store and one box rid me of the backache and built up my whole system."

OVER EIGHT YEARS LATER,
Mrs. Bott said: "Since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, they have always proven beneficial when I have had need to use them. I am glad to again endorse Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't

LOWDEN AND LABOR.

Gov. Frank O. Lowden's record in office and out has been consistently one of practical friendship for labor. He has never stooped to flattery nor ambiguous campaign pledges to win the favor of the labor element, but has taken toward the workingman a candid and sympathetic attitude that in the long run has borne conviction of his genuine interest. The attitude of labor organizations of his own state is a fair example of the Governor's relations with labor.

Although labor leaders opposed his candidacy for governor in 1916 his record in office so clearly showed the depth of his interest in the workingman's problems that two years later Lowden was invited to address the convention of the Illinois State Federation of Labor. On that occasion John H. Walker, president of the federation, said:

"I think, possibly the strongest letter I ever wrote in condemnation of a man I wrote in opposing the election of our present governor. To me he has been an exceedingly agreeable surprise. He has not always given us what we wanted, but he has always given us a hearing and has always said what he would do and what he would not do. In the appointment of men who have dealt with the affairs of labor Governor Lowden has always given us serious consideration and in many instances has appointed the men labor wanted."

Mr. Walker referred to the governor's efforts in obtaining amendments to the workmen's compensation act which make that law one of the most liberal of its kind in the country. "And I think Governor Lowden is more responsible for having compulsory amendment enacted," said Mr. Walker, "than any other man."

The governor exerted all his influence to obtain the passage in the last legislature of the eight hour law for woman workers. That it failed was due to forces he could not overcome. Other legislation in the interest of labor he did succeed in pushing through, and his record throughout office has been one of aggressive friendship for the best interests of labor.

MR. B. AND MRS. B.

Twentieth century progress has made but little impression upon the household over which Mr. B. is the titular lord and master. Mrs. B. uses many of the same tools in the performance of her duties that her mother and grandmother used.

In spite of the vacuum cleaner she sweeps with a heavy broom. Despite electric irons and power washing machines she breaks her back and wears out her knuckles over an old-fashioned washboard. Regardless of the existence of modern mechanical and electrical devices she toasts and boils and bakes in the old-time way on the old-time stove and does thousands of other things in the nerve-racking, body-breaking, woman-killing fashion popular during the Harrison administration.

If Mr. B. did his work with the instruments used generations ago he would shave each morning by candlelight, walk three miles to work, build a fire in a sheet iron stove in his office, write his letters with a quill pen, sprinkle sand to absorb the surplus ink and do all his business without the aid of telephones, push buttons, electric lights, speaking tubes, typewriters or adding machines. At lunch time he would eat a lunch out of a paper sack and at night he would hoof it some again three miles in the cold, sagely reflecting upon the copper riveted cinch which he women have.

MIDDLE CLASS UNIONS.

The noisy warfare which labor and capital have been carrying on for a long time has obscured the existence of another class, which is vastly more powerful than either of the two. This is the middle class, the so-called "white collar" workers, the salaried and professional toilers, who have suffered the most from the high cost of living and capital and labor's guerilla warfare, but have made comparatively little complaint. In England Middle Class Unions have been growing rapidly and some day America may see its salaried workers organized into powerful class-conscious unions. In the United States the middle class outnumber every other group overwhelmingly. Their power and resources are beyond estimate for they have been paying the cost of the strikes and walkouts and the industrial and business paralysis which labor and capital have used as weapons. Some day the middle classes may grow tired of having the tail wag the dog and when they do—look out.

After a few more wars have put the world finally on its back, statesmen may learn the folly of making nations great at the expense of people.

The league was born in a foreign country, but it was sired by Uncle Sam and there is good blood back of it.

In Berlin, those who favor law and order are the ones who see no chance of personal profit in a revolution.

A MANUAL OF DEPORTMENT

Dear Mr. Palmer, may I not
Implore you to extend, somewhat,
Your recent deportations?
Before you're tempted to desist,
Examine well this little list
Who need your ministrations.

There is a grocer in our block
Who always carries "cane" in stock,
Which I think quite suspicious;
He never has the cheaper sweet
Extracted from the sugar beet;
I'll warrant he's seditious.

Then there's that man in that garage
Who's full of dope and camouflage
Of "expert" education,
Please ship him to some foreign part,
Where natives use the one-ox cart
As means of transportation.

Then there's a man I much resent
Who always starts an argument
And never lets me shade him;
He knows so much I'm almost sure
He reads forbidden literature;
I think you ought to raid him.

There still are men (I hear it said)
Whose flannel underwear is red,
Badge of suspicious functions!
And there are miners, too, who strike,
And others whom you may not like;
Why bother with injunctions?

Just yesterday, there spoke to me
A leader of the G. O. P.
With ardent admiration;
He said you were a nervy sport
And he had hopes you'd soon deport
Your whole administration.

Confessions of a Bride

I Am Puzzled How to Get a Reply Back to Katherine Miller.

"Quite characteristic of her! Her morals are true to type!" I remarked to Jimmy-boy when I handed Katherine Miller's letter to him an hour later. After he had read it, Jim helped me compose a reply. We told Miss Miller that the party headed for the Lorimer mines was really hunting for her; we promised we would send a courier to tell Morrison where she was held; we made the letter as brief as possible and put it in French, knowing she could read it. If our answer went astray, it wouldn't be of much value to any Mexican who might chance to find it.

We hired a messenger to follow the search-party and sent him off on the evening train carrying a note which was also done in our best French.

Then Jim promised to watch me from a distance, the next afternoon when I was due to deliver a note to Katherine's Indian messenger.

Early next morning, Jim took me out to the field where he parks his bus. The mechanics were dandy chaps. While indifferent to the thrills of the game, they appeared to approve of a girl with nerve enough to want to be a pilot.

What I really had, I suppose, was the nerve of a fool. I hadn't the least notion of what I was letting myself in for. Some women have made airplane records, and I told myself that I might just as well be numbered among the pioneers, though as I peered into the blue above me, I didn't care much about making an altitude record.

"By the time I'm a grandmother, women will have their own cozy airplanes—sudan style—to do errands and make calls in. Why wait? Better go to it now," thought I to myself.

The ship may have been a steady old taxi, as Jim insisted, but it didn't feel so to me. The mechanics had installed a telephone connection between the instructor and pupil. By means of it, Jim explained how he did things. That was enough for a first lesson, he said. He showed me how to hold the key stick—let me "hold her steady" for a few minutes. But a "bump" in the air frightened me out of my senses. To quiet me, Jim "sat around on the clouds" for a while. As we skimmed the edge of a cloud-bank, I recalled another unique experience. Once I had dined in a U-boat at the bottom of the sea. I preferred an airplane to a submarine, although I climbed out of the car, after Jim had made his landing, with more fear in my heart than I cared to confess to.

To prove that I was "game" I suggested another lesson in the afternoon, but Jim said that the bus would have to be tuned up by the mechanics after each ascent. Moreover, there was the business with the Indian guide, he reminded me.

That, however, will always remain "unfinished business." The field where Jim parked his plane was at the end of the town's main street at the end where most of the gambling houses were situated. As we approached a drive, we saw two men carrying a body to a hearse. One of the crowd told Jim that it was only a dead Indian—shot in a card game. There'd been a fight over a ring, too.

"Jimmy—I think you'd better go—and look at the—the dead man," I suggested, "that is if you don't feel as sick and faint as I do. It may be—"

"Sure—it may be—" echoed Jim.

But whether it was—we never knew. The corpse was long and thin like the figure of the halfbreed I had seen in the dark. I patrolled the walk before the hotel at the appointed hour and Jim stood guard but nobody came for our letter to Katherine Miller.

"She's all right, anyway," said Jim. "Bob's bunch will soon hear from our courier."

"But she won't know, Jim! She won't know! And now—just read the last line of her letter again!"

"Help me this week or I will run away with Manuel!"

"Good Lord! Somebody ought to save that girl from herself!" exclaimed Jim.

It wasn't for me to say that the girl wasn't worth saving. She had treated me very badly, nevertheless, I must help her to the limit of my resources.

I never could understand how one human being can deliberately injure another.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

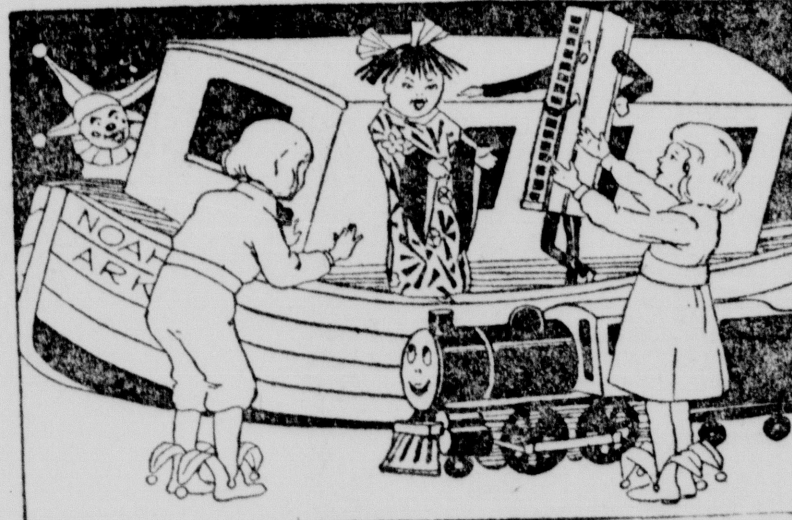

LOST-TOY TOWN.
There sat the toys in a row looking at the twins.
Foy Fun, the Chinese doll, who got lost the summer before last, was now living in Lost-Toy Town in the Land of Lost Things. Hearing that the twins were near, she telephoned that she had a surprise and for them to come over.

Pit, pat, patter! Their green shoes found the place in no time. And where DO you suppose Foy Fun was living? In a Noah's Ark!

Well, there sat the toys in a row; all the toys the twins had lost, from jack-stones to the old express wagon, all but Jocko!

"My!" said the mouth organ. "How you've grown, children!" It was trying to be polite, but no one noticed that the twins were really quite tiny. They had to be, you see, to live in a peach-can house.

"What's wrong with your voice?" asked Nick.
"Just a touch of asthma. I got it lying in the wet grass where you lost me. But I rather like it, it gives my notes a tone of distinction." And the mouth organ blew a chord. But Nick had spied a dearly beloved iron engine which had said, "Toot, toot," very loud and attract attention.

"How did you get here?" asked the little boy.

"Wanted to see the world, lost my way, and couldn't get back!" answered the engine.

Then Nancy asked the doll, "Foy Fun, why did you run away the day I set you in the tree by the road? When I came back you were gone."

Foy Fun smiled. "Automobile came along. Choo! choo! Shakee tee, Foy Fun fell down, hit man on head. Man pickie up. Throw away! Me come here!"

The twins stayed a long time talking over old times with the toys. Then the fairy mushroom said it was time to go home, so back they went, pit, pat, patter as they came.

FEEDING CHILDREN.

In dealing with malnutrition the following suggestions regarding children's diet may be helpful:
During infancy the diet should consist wholly of milk, and since no perfect substitute for mother's milk is known, mothers should always nurse their babies at the breast unless otherwise advised by a competent physician.

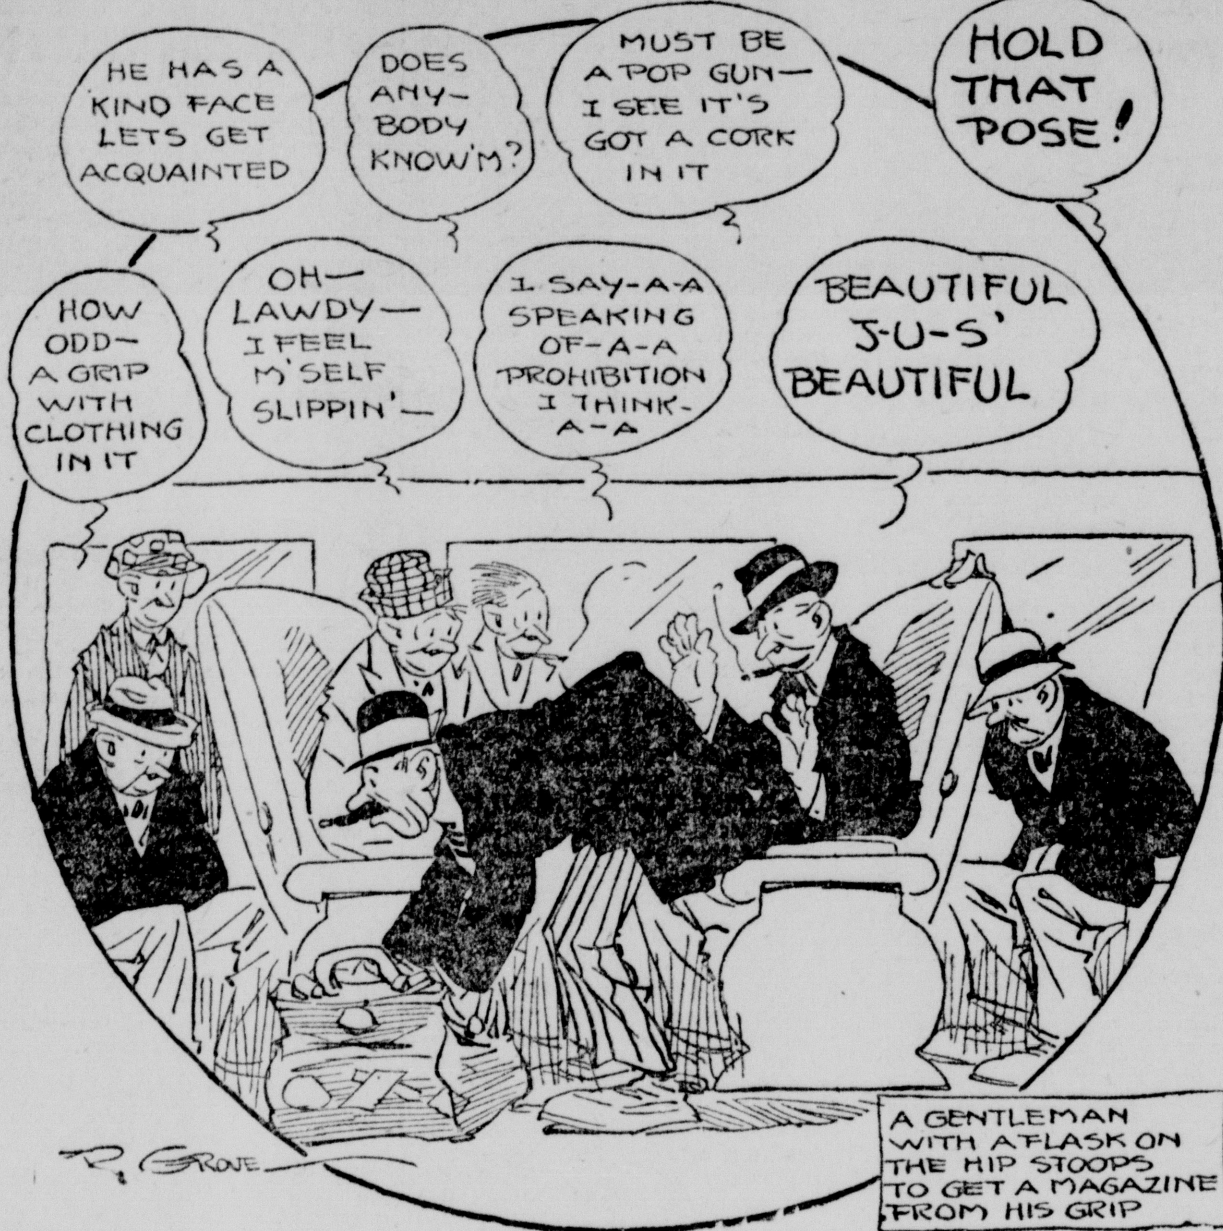

At six months the baby is able to digest starchy foods, therefore, at this time small amounts of barley or oatmeal water may be given with the milk. It is also well to give a teaspoonful of orange juice twice a day. When the teeth begin to appear, a cracker or a piece of zwieback may be allowed. In addition to this a little cereal jelly, without sugar, may be given once a day, preferably in the morning.

At about the fifteenth or sixteenth month, small amounts of baked potato, apple sauce, and the pulp of thoroughly cooked prunes may be added to baby's diet.

When the child is 2½ or 3 years of age the mother may begin to give one or two teaspoonfuls of scraped meat, or an egg. In general, meat should be given very sparingly to small children during the hot weather, and an egg should not be given oftener than once or twice a week to a child 3 to 6 years of age.

THE BOYS IN THE OTHER CAR

BY GROVE

Sugar, other than that obtained naturally in foods, is not necessary for a young child's diet. Simple desserts, such as custards, apple sauce and prune pulp may be given as early as the twentieth month and in amounts suited to the age.

As the child grows older, it may gradually partake of the same meals as the parents, care being taken to see that the diet is mixed and varied, and that it supplies all the elements necessary to ensure growth. Milk should be given at each meal.

Children should not be allowed to drink either tea or coffee.

It is most important to establish regular hours of feeding, and in the case of older children, not to permit them to spoil the appetites by feeding on candy between meals.

ANSWERED.

Q.—What is influenza meningitis? Is it serious?

A.—An inflammation of the lining of the brain (i. e., a meningitis) caused by the influenza germ. It is a very serious condition, and usually ends fatally.

Q.—What is the difference between flu and bronchitis?

A.—The term flu indicates the nature of the infection; the term, bronchitis indicates its location namely in the bronchi. Hence an attack of flu may take the form of a bronchitis; in fact, that is one of the commonest forms. Bronchitis may be caused by other bacteria than the flu germ. Often it is caused by the pneumonia germ; sometimes by the tubercle bacillus.

The "baby" was in perfect health and showed an "angelic disposition" as he crawled about the floor. THE WOMAN WHO LOVED--AND EARNED

When Gardner Kenyon asked me to play hooky and go to dinner with him, I refused. But he wouldn't take no for an answer, and finally declared we would go and ask Robert's permission.

"You look tired. A change will do you good," he had said when urging me to go. I was tired. I had been working hard at the store doing what was necessary for Robert, and I could not be expected to take care of us here. Robert at once told me to go. He was sitting up, and really did not need me. I saw the maid, told her what to give him for dinner, then went to a gay restaurant with Gardner. I enjoyed myself immensely. We had a delicious dinner, the music was good, and Gardner put himself out to entertain me. He told stories at which I laughed heartily and insisted that we remain and watch the dancing.

"How does it seem to be waiting for me to come in?" I asked.

"What's the matter with the goose is sauce for the gander," he quoted. Then, "Did you have a good time?" "Splendid, and such a good dinner. I felt really selfish that you weren't with me."

"Blake called. He stayed half an hour or more."

"How did he happen to come?"

"The manager sent him to see how I was getting along and if I would be back soon."

"That was kind."

"Oh, I don't know! I fancy they would be glad to let my place. Blake as much as said they wouldn't keep it for me much longer."

"The doctor said you would be able to get out in another week," I encouraged.

"And it will probably be still another week before I can stand on this lame leg all day. Oh, well, let them fire me if they want to."

I made no reply. His tone was bitter, reckless. I knew he did not like Mr. Blake, that he was jealous of him. They had been hired by Caldwell, and about the same time, and while Robert had been reprimanded because of his failure to sell goods, Blake had more than once won praise from his employers.

"They won't fire you—at least, I don't believe they will," I spoke with more certainty than I felt. I had begun to lose faith in Robert's business ability before he went with Caldwell, and their refusal to give him his promised raise, their remark that "he had not earned it," had increased the feeling that Robert was somehow lacking in business sense.

This did not make me love him less. It only made me feel glad that I was capable of earning a good salary.

The next morning before I left for the shop the telephone rang and Robert answered.

"No, not for a week or two—better not wait," his voice sounded impatient, almost angry. "Don't consider me in the matter. I am not at all sure I shall not take another position very well. Good bye."

"What is it, Robert?" I asked curiously, with a premonition of what was coming.

"Oh, Caldwell can't wait any longer. I feel like telling that manager to go to the devil."

"But Robert, I heard you say they

The bridesmaid, Miss Pearl Clinton, cousin of the bride, wore a pink Georgette crepe gown and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Perry Piper. After the ceremony a three-course wedding breakfast was served to the immediate relatives at the home of the bride's parents on South Main street. The bride was born and grew to young womanhood in this community where she has hosts of friends. After graduating from St. Joseph's Academy, she attended a college of music in Madison, Wis. 114 EGGS A DAY NOW INSTEAD OF 25 A DAY

That Means About $105 Extra Income Per Month for Mrs. Ropp.

"I have 200 hens, including late pullets not old enough to lay, and had been getting 25 to 30 eggs a day. Then I tried Don Sung in the feed, and am now getting 107 to 114 eggs a day."

Mrs. Essie B. Ropp, R. 2, Littleton, Ind. Mrs. Ropp got this increase of 7 dozen eggs a day in the middle of winter. At 50 cents a dozen, 30 days a month, this makes $105 extra income a month. The Don Sung for her 200 hens cost her about $2.50 per month. You can see how well it paid her, and we'll guarantee it will pay you. Here's our offer: Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 234 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

Owners' Approval Is Like a Rousing Cheer

The Cleveland Six, from coast to coast, is establishing its place in motordom. The bitter cold days of the Northern winter have proved its ease of starting, just as the hot summer days, when hundreds of new Cleverlands were being driven across the country, proved the perfection of its radiation.

The Cleveland Six is in the hands of owners all over the United States today, and the chorus of satisfactory approval from these owners is like a rousing cheer. They say the car surprises them, pleases them, delights them. Its pliant power, its simple ease of handling, its boat-like comfort, surpass all expectations.

If you hope and plan to start the new season with a new five-passenger touring car which is a real six, or such a car of roadster type with wide, deep seat of restful cushioning and plenty of stow-away space, then come in and see the Cleveland Six.

A study of this car will interest you. A ride in it will convince you.

Only Essex Shares Hudson's Qualities

They Show Why Essex Went 3037 Miles in 50 Hours, and is Rightful Runner-up to the Super-Six Performance

A critical public has judged the Essex. In the year past it set a world's sales record.

More than $35,000,000 was paid for 22,000 Essex cars now in service.

That shows how men wanted what Essex offered.

Now Essex proves the accuracy of motordom's judgment.

Let the official tests speak:

On the Cincinnati Speedway a stock chassis Essex made a new world mark of 3037 miles in 50 hours, under observation of the American Automobile Association.

With other trials the same Essex ran a total of 5870 miles in 94 hours, 22 minutes driving time, averaging over a mile a minute.

Both Have This Motor Heat Control

Still another Essex phaeton holds the world's 24-hour road mark of 1061 miles. The Essex and Hudson are of course totally different types.

But note the advantages Essex shares with Hudson.

For instance, the radiator shutters by which efficient operating heat is maintained in coldest weather. They mean everything to satisfactory winter driving. Closed, they keep the heat in. No unsightly hood covers are needed. They give summer efficiency to gasoline. They end hard starting. And in warm weather, opened, they give the maximum cooling.

The Performance Leaders in Every Community

The Essex, of course, does not cost as much as the Hudson, and though it is admittedly the runner-up in performance, it can never be all the Super-Six is.

In speed—in acceleration—in hill-climbing—in endurance—no stock car ever matched Hudson's famous records.

In every community you will find the two cars most noted for performance are the Hudson Super-Six and Essex.

Demand for both is so large that only by placing your order ahead can you insure delivery when you want it.

FIELD SECRETARY OF TRAINING LEAGUE IN DIXON URGING ACTION

Aroused Supporters of Plan to Make Their Wishes Known.

That Universal Training will stabilize business, wipe out the red flag, promote better citizenship, increase the nation's man-power, and cost less than half the expense of an adequate standing army is the argument of Vernon D. Beatty, Field Secretary of the Universal Military Training League who was in the city on Saturday.

"The Wadsworth Bill," said Mr. Beatty, "which calls for universal training is the most important piece of legislation that has been before the country in half a century."

"This measure provides for a short period of four months training for every boy in either his 18th, 19th or 20th year, at his own option. Furthermore he may choose the time of year in which he wishes to receive his training. The farmer may go in the winter, while the college boy will be able to take his training without interfering with his education."

Go Right Home.
"When the four months are completed, the boy goes right home. Neither during the training period nor afterwards can he be forced to bear arms or render a single day of active army service. This is only just. No sane American wants compulsory service in time of peace. The only service that can ever be required is by act of congress in case of war."

Injustice To Veterans.
"The most unjust and disgraceful argument in opposition to Universal Training is the one put forward that we have today four million men already trained in the art of war and that they can be depended to protect us for a number of years to come, while those millions of young men coming on escape service because they are untrained. Could anything be more unequal, more undemocratic than this?" asked Mr. Beatty.

American Legion Approves.
The Wadsworth Bill, now pending in the senate, was written after several months of open and public sessions at which the outside viewpoint was invited and received. The bill was helped in its construction by representatives of the American Legion, the National Guard, the College Presidents' Association, and other individuals and organizations throughout the country. It has the approval of the administration and the endorsement of every military authority in the land. It is intended to satisfy the needs and desires of all classes.

"Certain pacifist and reactionary elements at Washington are working to prevent the passage of the bill," said Mr. Beatty to Major Brinton, who heartily endorses the plan. "The statement is made that Universal Training will cost the government $600,000,000 to a billion dollars a year. This is in the fact of the War Department's estimates which place the cost of training at a maximum of $121,000,000 per year. Half a billion will support the cost of the entire establishment, regular army, coast defense, national guard, and military training as well. Yet, figures six to eight times the official estimates of the department are being given as an argument against the policy."

Cheaper Than Army.
"Any person who makes a statement of this nature is either badly misinformed or deliberately exaggerates the situation. If we do not have universal training, we shall have to have a large standing army, because there is a nation-wide sentiment against unpreparedness and neglect of national defense, even though war is improbable and unlikely. We have learned our lesson. We must adopt the least expensive and most efficient course. Universal Training will cost less than half the upkeep of an adequate army if we are not to have military training."

Increased Progress.
National training of our young men in citizenship, Americanization, the visualizing of popular government and their duties and obligations under it; the development of national health by clean living; the respect for law and obedience to constituted authority; self-respect, orderly conduct, instruction and guidance in vocational work, selective short courses in agriculture, chemistry, the trades and industries, in well-ordered plans through the cooperation of the school master and the drill for four months in our cantonments will rebuild and regenerate our manhood, build up the man-power of the nation, increase production, reduce the cost of living and provide for national safety and national progress.

"Militarism" Bogey.
"The most senseless thing any man can do is to shake the bones of Prussian militarism in the face of the American people and warn them against it. No sane man in or out of Congress wants Militarism in America. It is an impossibility."

Militarism in this country would require a war lord or dictator in whose hands would be the sole power of declaring war, without regard for public sentiment. This power rests in the hands of congress. We have a civilian President and Secretary of War. Civil power is supreme. Militarism cannot exist."

His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons says that Universal Training is the very antithesis of Militarism.

It has been said that to train our boys would make them bloody-thirsty, send them about with a desire for war and destruction, breed crudity and lust. Was there ever baser slander than this placed upon the ex-service man, our boys who went over the top are ready to do it again if need be? These lads are today better, healthier stronger men for their training and have a sincere respect for law and order. If this statement of the pacifists is true, then we have four million men in the country today who are a menace to our welfare."

Education Features of Bill.
"The Wadsworth Bill states that the training shall include general education and vocational training in appropriate trades, which may be necessary in war and useful in peace, scientific agriculture, physical training instruction in hygiene, instruction in American history, principles and forms of government and such other instruction and training as may be adapted to qualify those receiving it in performing their duty as citizen-soldiers; the training to be given in different areas of the country should be adapted to the respective climate, agricultural, industrial, educational and other conditions, and may be prescribed by regulation."

Americanize the Foreigner.
This program will not only Americanize the foreigner and teach him something of our government and our language before he becomes a citizen, but it will give the young men from all walks of life a certain insight into the possibilities of earnest study as a means to forwarding his civilian interests. It will insure a sturdy manhood, a keener mind, a better general education, and make us safe with a smaller standing army."

"Every supporter and believe in Universal Training should write his Congressman and Senators at once and urge their support of the Wadsworth Bill. The time is short and the need acute."

Fine Metals Make a Fine Car

As a car is 98% metal you can readily imagine how great a part metals play in its quality. A Maxwell is made of fine metals—extra fine metals; otherwise it never could have survived those 1,500,000,000 miles that owners are estimated to have driven it.

These metals had to be of the finer grades in a Maxwell. For a Maxwell is light—2130 pounds. Lighter metals had to be used but lighter in weight only—not in strength.

Such metals are the extra fine metals that the great science of metallurgy has produced. They are high priced. But they have won countless friendships for Maxwell, developed a great family of owners approaching 400,000 in number.

This vast number is growing daily at the rate of 100,000 per year.

INSIDE HISTORY OF ADOPTION OF WILSON 14 POINTS IS GIVEN

Paris Paper Tells Story of Meeting of November 3, 1918.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Feb. 10.—How the allies accepted President Wilson's fourteen points in connection with armistice negotiations was revealed for the first time by the Echo de Paris today. It was at a meeting in the office of Stephen Pichon, foreign minister on November 3, 1918. Previous meetings at Versailles had fixed the military conditions of an eventual armistice and the government chiefs had met for final deliberation.

David Lloyd George, the British premier, the Echo de Paris says, turned to Col House and declared: "If we have thoroughly understood President Wilson's thought, the armistice negotiations which the American government is disposed to open with Germany in concert with the allied powers are subordinated by the acceptance by the said powers of the principles and conditions of peace defined by the president on January 8 and in his subsequent speeches. In a word we must give our assent to the four teen points."

Col. House is reported to have answered that was so. Premier Clemenceau broke in: "As to the fourteen points I have not read them yet. Let me know what they are."

"The Flier" objected.
Col House began, but after he had read the first point (relative to "open covenants of peace openly arrived at") M. Clemenceau exclaimed: "that cannot be accepted. You cannot negotiate in the middle of a public street."

A. J. Balfour, British secretary of state for foreign affairs explained this point meant publication of a result and not the steps by which they were reached, and the French premier answered: "In that case my objections fall to the ground."

Reading of the second point, in which Mr. Wilson declared in favor of "the freedom of the seas," brought a reservation from Premier Lloyd George but the important third point (regarding the removal of economic barriers) and others went through quickly. Only when the seventh (regarding the evacuation and restoration of Belgium) the eighth (declaring all French territory must be freed and restored and that the wrong done France by Prussia in 1871 relative to Alsace Lorraine) and the eleventh (in which the future status of Rumania, Serbia and Montenegro was considered) were read there were further reservations as the matter of reparations entered into the situation.

After all the points had been read M. Clemenceau turned to Col. House saying: "In case we reject the fourteen points what would happen?"

"President Wilson would consider conversations he has engaged in with the Allies on the subject of the armistice as ended," was Col. House's reply.

Save Reservations.
"Would he also consider as ended the conversations he began with the Germans in October?" asked the French premier.

"I can give you no assurance of that," replied Col. House.
At this decisive moment Premier Clemenceau pronounced the sacramental "adopted." Premier Lloyd George hastened the rapid decision by saying: "We reserve to ourselves the right to formulate reservations as regards freedom of the sea and reparations."

YOUTH AND LOVE EXPRESS SPIRIT OF ST. VALENTINE'S DAY, SAY AMERICAN STARS

Five Most Beautiful Women on American Stage Tell Significance of Valentine's Day

New York—"What is the spirit of St. Valentine's Day?"

"Youth and love," is the composite answer of the five actresses selected jointly by David Belasco, Florenz Ziegfeld, George M. Cohan, Edgar Selwyn and Al H. Woods, as the five most beautiful women on the American stage today. They are Lenore Ulric, Jane Cowl, Ann Mason, Theda Bara and Jessie Reed.

"St. Valentine's Day is youth and happiness, and love and all that is beautiful," says Lenore Ulric. "It is like little children with spring in their hearts and the bright light of happiness in their eyes. It is the mating song of birds and the expression of all that is best in us."

Jane Cowl calls St. Valentine's Day the "expression of pent-up love and real sentiment."

"It is the outlet of youthful hearts," she says. "There may be holidays more useful, more generally observed, and carrying with them more worship and sentimentality, but there is not a holiday more worth while than that spent worshipping at the shrine of the saint of love."

"St. Valentine's Day," according to Ann Mason, "brings youth back to those grown old with worldly worries, banishes care from the heart, and brings smiles to take the place of frowns. But most of all it makes care-free children of us all."

To Theda Bara the day means the expression of everything that is young and beautiful.

"It is the day that is the harbinger of spring in our hearts," she says. "To all of us it brings memories of childish fancies and dreams of love."

"St. Valentine's Day is the day of lovers," is the comment of Jessie Reed. "That person is unhappy indeed who has not sent some little message on that day to a loved one, and awaited with breathless interest the receiving of a similar token."

Present lumber prices are the highest in the history of the industry. Since 1914 they have advanced from 200 to 300 per cent.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Only a Limited Number of Ford Cars

There are mighty good reasons why you should buy your Ford car now. But the biggest one is that there are only so many Ford cars—just a specified limited number—allotted to this territory. Those who buy their cars now will be wise. They will have them to use whenever they wish.

Don't put it off—next spring, even next month, is an uncertainty. We cannot take orders for spring delivery. Even now, we must have signed bona-fide orders before our monthly allotment is shipped us. So the only way for you to be sure of getting a Ford car, is to order it now. Get your name on an order. It is your protection.

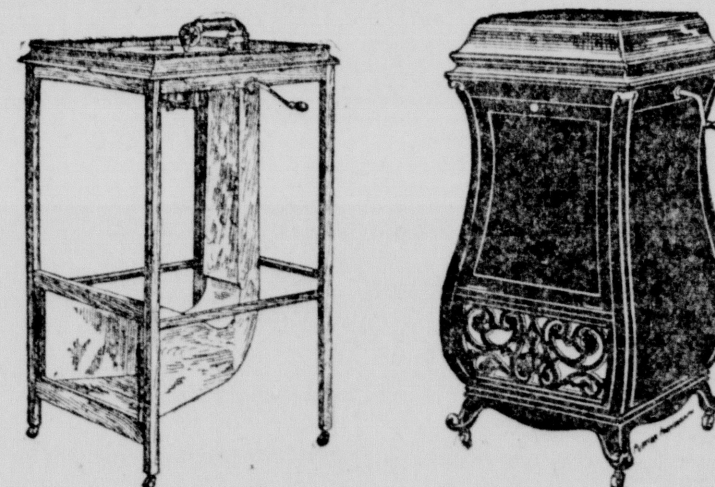

Again we tell you, the allotment for this territory is limited and you must buy now while deliveries are possible. As ever, the demand for Ford cars is away in advance of production. So, it's first come, first served. Spring, summer, autumn and winter are all the same to the Ford car. It is a valuable servant every day of the year. Rain or shine, it is ready for your demands. Buy now and get prompt delivery. You won't have to store it. You can use it. Buy now while the buying is possible.
